UNDISCIPLINED CLASS

Last Friday, our class teacher, Mr. Kapere Adonia was absent. The was because his wife had delivered twins. The class captain looked after the class as the teachers mid-term examinations. Everybody had performed badly. Kalondozi known as wasp took the attention of the whole class when he began imitating the teacher for Science, when teaching mechanical advantage. Indeed the whole class caught fire. All the children stood up and clapped their hands. They screamed and laughed like monkeys in the forest. Kalende Eveline and Achote started drumming the tables until the Deputy head teacher Mr. Kayizzi Ruppi came in. Silence broke in class when all stubborn children were taken to the staff room. We were punished and sent back home for a week. Everybody in Primary six Green confessed their sins before the deputy head teacher.

51. Read the passage below and in full sentences, answer the questions that follow.

A TOUR TO MR. AYEBALE'S FARM

Last week, Primary Seven class toured Mr. Ayebale's farm. The class woke up very early in order to catch the first taxi to Migadde Village. The journey took only four hours.

When they reached the farm, the farm manager welcomed them. He invited them for breakfast. Each child was happy to have a cupful of milk and a fried egg. Then he took them around his farm. They saw very many animals, but the most interesting one was a pussy cat.

When the pussy cat saw the visitors, it quickly ran to the maize store. Within a short time, it had brought a mouse. This cat did not eat the mouse; instead it carried it and put it in front of the visitors. It then sat and looked at it. The manager told the visitors that this cat always enjoyed seeing visitors on the farm and it was its habit to get those visitors a gift. The pupils were happy to hear this. Most of them could not believe their ears, so they continued with the visit. When the cat saw that nothing was done to its meal, it went away quietly.

At three in the afternoon, the pupils decided to go back home. When they entered the taxi, they found the dead mouse on the driver's seat. The cat had given the visitors a gift to take home! What a wonderful pet it was!

Happy are those, whose parents are still alive
Like Susan and Bob.
They can enjoy parental love.

Whenever my uncle returns from work
He brings for them quite a good
Number of items like bread, biscuit and exercise books.

Poor as I am, my daily work,
Is to leave my mat when it
Is still dark.

To set fire and prepare breakfast,
For my uncle's children
Before their father drives them to school.

When it is lunch,
I should make sure food is ready for the whole family
For if this does not happen.
I know that I shall receive canes from my mother's brother

God should really come in
To rescue the situation
So that I may also be happy

By Sarah Nsiyaleeta.

SECTION B (50 marks)

51. Read the passage below carefully and answer, in full sentences, the questions that follow.

Towards the end of last year, South Africa was filled with grief when the father of the nation, Nelson Mandela, passed on at the age of 95 at his home in Johannesburg. President Jacob Zuma declared ten days of National mourning while breaking the sad news to the nation.

In his address, the president described the late Nelson Madiba Mandela as a true Pan Africanist who selflessly served the nation with all his heart. He also described him as a true democrat who made sure that South Africa achieved her independence in 1994. He called upon all citizens of South Africa to emulate his deeds and style of life.

The news about Mandela's death spread to the whole world like wild fire. Various forms of media like the radios, local and international televisions, the internet and newspapers all over the world announced the death of this great man who was imprisoned for 27 years. Condolences from various leaders started flowing in. Notable among these were from President Barrack Obama of the United States of America. In his condolences, President Obama described Nelson Mandela as a real statesman who treasured his country and dedicated all his life towards serving it. Other world leaders like David Cameron, the British Prime Minister, and president Francois Hollande of France also sent condolences. Almost all African leaders conveyed their condolences.

A national requiem mass was held in one of South Africa's biggest stadiums. It was attended by over one hundred heads of state and dignitaries from all over the globe. Speaker after speaker described Nelson Mandela as a true democrat and a voice of the voiceless.

Later, his body was taken to Kumi, his ancestral home, where a funeral service was held in a local church before a traditional burial ceremony was held privately by his clansmen.

As Africans, we should not stop at mourning this great son of Africa, but try to cherish all that he struggled for most of his life – to liberate and unite Africans. All forms of discrimination and oppression ought to be stamped out of Africa by Africans themselves. RIP Nelson Mandela!

Though on my natural products,
You and your family survive,
You care not about me,
Even when it is raining outside,

It is true you are to rule over me,
According to God's natural plan,
But happiness is for both of us,
Peace I give you, says the Lord,
And so peace you should give me,
I say on behalf of my fellow animals.

It is true I need not shoes,
Though from my hide you enjoy the best Shoes
and respected you are among men,
What I need is a clean shed,
With or without walls I mind less,
So long as it is big enough for me,

It is true you enjoy my products,
But think about my dear calf,
As you greedily drain all,
The milk from my big udder,
It hurts me when my calf yawns,
As your dear babies enjoy my milk.

SECTION B

Questions 51 to 55 carry ten marks each.

51. Read the passage below and then answer the questions that follow in full sentences.

"Hully up, the invigilators are already checking the candidates!" one of my classmates exclaimed. I saw other candidates rushing to the examination room to have their bodies checked.

Reaching the examination room, my fellow classmates were the ones acting as invigilators to check the candidates. I was surprised. I had to ask Zena, my friend, what was going on. He told me that they had started with a briefing by the "headteacher" who was also one of the candidates.

So , I displayed myself for check-up amidst confusion. As soon as we settled in the properly arranged classroom, the "invigilators" distributed examination papers. I said to myself, "This should be serious!"

Reading the examination paper, it was just a revision paper. They ordered us to begin answering the questions and we had to. When the ending time clocked, the bell was rung and we all stood up. The "invigilators" collected the scripts and sealed them properly in an envelope. Hardly had the exercise ended when all candidates burst into laughter. I asked Philip, my classmate, what was going on. He told me that the class had been role playing what exactly takes place before and during the PLE exercise. I also smiled in disbelief having realised that the whole exercise was just practice.

Section B. (50 Marks)

51. Read the passage carefully and answer, in full sentences, the questions that follow.

Carpentry and tailoring are some of the occupations from which many people earn their living. These occupations involve making furniture and clothes of different designs. Whereas carpentry involves mending broken and worn out furniture, tailoring involves mending old and torn clothes.

These two occupations do not discriminate between men and women. A person whose job is making and repairing wooden objects is a carpenter. A woman whose job is sewing and making clothes may be referred to as a seamstress or a tailor.

Mr. Nsimbe is a renown carpenter, whereas his wife Mrs. Nsimbe is a famous seamstress. They both have big workshops in Pako Trading Centre, Zombo District. The two have not only earned a living from their work, but they have also educated their four children in good schools.

Though they both began with few tools to use, they have now become popular in their trading centre and beyond. They get clients from even outside Uganda. People love them because they use quality materials such as planes, drills, sewing machines, bobbins among others. Besides, Mrs. Nsimbe is very honest unlike other tailors.

Questions.

(a) Which occupations are talked about in the passage?

(b) Who according to the passage, is a seamstress?

(j) Suggest a suitable title for the passage above.

52. (A) Read the poem below and answer, in full sentences, the questions that follow.

WE MISS YOU.

Mother, sweet mother,
You meant so much to us
You brightened up the darkest days,
But you are no more.

Mother, sweet mother,
Your smile alone warmed our heart
Your laugh felt like music to our ears
I would give absolutely everything
To see you alive.

Since you are no longer in pain,
I know you are happy now,
Your love we will never forget,
The pain will ease with time.

SECTION B

51. Read the passage below and in full sentences, answer the questions that follow.

On the 17th April 2015, when we broke up for holidays for a term I, we received news from our uncle that our grandfather was very ill. We thought it was a lie that perhaps he had already died since he was sickly.

"Sit in the car," said Daddy." We need to go there now." After about thirty kilometres, we reached Bulyowa village which is found in Ivakula sub country. This was the place where Mr. Yesseri, our grandfather, was living with his only grandson, Alex in the house.

Straight away, we put our grandfather in the car and rushed him to Kibaale Health Centre where he was hospitalized for a week. We were there for seven days in the health center. On Friday of the following week, our grandfather had to be discharged since he was then okay. We sat in the car and returned home but the old man had very interesting stories everybody liked.

One Saturday Bbala boarded a taxi from Kampala to Taxi Park. He was going to visit his grandparents in Fort Portal. It was a quarter past one O'clock when the taxi started on its journey.

At first the taxi moved very slowly towards the Clock Tower. As usual there was a traffic jam around the place. It took about an hour for the traffic jam to clear. Bbala wondered if he could reach Fort Portal before dark.

Once the taxi was out of Kampala the driver increases the speed. He was, however very careful not to endanger the lives of other road users. The road had a tarmac surface all the way to Mityana. From Mityana to Fort Portal, the road had murram surface. The tax had not gone far from Mityana when it stopped. There was a bus right across the road. The taxi could move neither around the front of the bus nor around the back. There was a crowd of people around the bus. The taxi driver got out to see what had happened. The bus was empty except the driver, who was trying to start the bus again and again. However hard he tried the bus could not start.

The taxi driver turned to the crowd and asked them why they did not help to push the bus out of the way. They said they could not unless they were given money first. "If we ride in the bus, the conductor asks us to pay the fare, so we don't see why we should push the bus without being paid." One of them said.

Half an hour later, a policeman appeared. After studying the situation, he ordered everybody to push the bus. Since there were plenty of strong young men, the bus was soon moved out of the way. Bbala and other passengers got back into the taxi to continue with their journey. Indeed it was quite dark when Bbala arrived at his grandparent's home.

Kachinga village,
P.o.Box 202,
Mawundo
2nd November, 2018

Dear Mummy,

I am pleased to write to you again after such a long time. How are you and how is your work in Nairobi? Back here, we are alright and I am preparing for Primary Leaving Examination. (PLE)

Mummy, I am writing to inform you that our school has successfully registered us for PLE 2018 and we are very happy. Now I am ready to sit for the Primary Leaving Examination. Infact, all the candidates have been briefed by our head teacher, Mr. Kato Joseph.

During the briefing he said, "All of you should take note of the PLE timetable. This will help you to know how the subjects have been arranged." He also emphasized that we should read the general instructions carefully and those inside the question paper. After that, the head teacher gave a chance to all P.7 teachers to brief us too. Mrs. Akello, our class teacher advised on filling in information on the first page carefully. She also told us to read each question twice, understand it and then answer what is required.

The other three teachers talked about writing our responses in the space provided in the question paper. They encouraged us to have confidence in ourselves. They added that all the questions set are within the curriculum. They warned us against any kind of examination malpractice.

Mummy, the teacher also reassured us that we shall pass with flying colours. I am ready and revising seriously following the timetable. Pray for me not to forget what I was taught.

Please, send my regards to my little brother Jatel Anthony. I wish you all the best while doing your work.

Your loving daughter,
Katoko Elizabeth

Long ago, Hyena and Lion were very good friends. They lived in a cave, and often went hunting together. One day, they decided to go to the town to buy some cows.

Lion chose first, He bought a bull. Hyena bought a cow. On their journey back home, Hyena's cow gave birth to a calf. Immediately, Lion claimed that his bull had given birth to the calf. This surprised Hyena, but he kept quiet. He knew what would happen if he urged with Lion.

Soon, Lion and Hyena came to a village. There was a meeting of some animals. Hyena got courage and told the other animals about what had happened. Before any other animal said anything, Lion roared and said; "If anybody judges this case, he will lose his life!" All the animals feared Lion and so Hyena had no one to help him.

Hyena was very upset and cried all the way home. Near their home they met Hare. Hare was gathering firewood.

"What's the matter?" asked Hare.

"Why do you ask? Is it any of your business?" Lion roared.

"Lion, you know I am not afraid of you. Every time you have a contest with me, I win. So, you should show me some respect".

Lion kept quiet. He remembered the last time he wanted to kill Hare. He ended up into a deep hole!

So, Hyena told Hare his sad story. Hare listened attentively. Then suddenly he said: "Excuse me, I must go now. I must hurry back home to cook a meal for my father. He gave birth to a baby girl last night"

Lion laughed and laughed. Then he caught his breath and said: "Hare, who you are fooling now? How can a man produce young ones?" Hare replied quickly: "if a man cannot produce a child, then your bull did not produce that calf" Lion had to agree that he was defeated. So he apologised and surrendered the calf to Hyena. Read the passage the below and answer the questions that follow;

51. Our plane had just landed. We were to undergo several security checks before leaving the airport. Police officer dogs were directed at our luggage. Security agents searched our bodies with metal detectors. This was compulsory because the crime rate has risen.

While in the queue, I saw a particular lady who had sat next to me in the plane. Throughout the flight, she had not mentioned any word to me. May be she could not speak any of the languages Ugandans speak. "Hold for me this handbag. I would like to use the washrooms" she said as she put her small bag on my shoulder. She was so much in a hurry that the luggage and dropped down. All the people around could sense that it was unusually heavy. "Come back!" I shouted to catch her attention and that of the security officers. To my surprise the lady ran and disappeared. I sensed danger and shouted at people to move away from the luggage that was on the floor. The police moved swiftly and stopped her.

Soon sniffer dogs were searching her bag as I watched from a distance. The dogs barked uncontrollably. When the police moved to inspect the bag, they found cocaine carefully tacked in.

My heart almost stopped beating when a man was arrested. The face, nails and hair were exactly like those of the woman who sat next to me in the aeroplane. This man had disguised himself as a woman. He was handcuffed and taken to the police station. He had committed a serious crime. A week later, I was summoned to appear before court as a witness. The thought of how drug abuse has wasted the lives of many people gave me courage to stand before the judge and testify against him.

SECTION B

51. Read the passage below carefully and answer in full sentences the questions that follow.

When a boy wants to travel from Kampala to Mbarara, he has to choose from the two ways of doing so. He can travel by bus or take a taxi. Either of them will do because they usually arrive nearly at the same time and the amount of money he has to pay is nearly the same. Besides, the fare is only Shs. 15000/-. If he decides to go by bus, he should make sure that he sits on one of the front seats, so that he is able to see what is ahead. The best seat in a bus is normally that one which is nearest to the driver. One is near enough to see the way the driver holds the steering wheel: how he makes the bus stop: how he starts off again: how he uses his eyes to see the road and other vehicles; and how he eats while driving. For a taxi, the best seat is the one at the back. When one sits at the back, one can listen properly to what other passengers are saying. One can also get some sleep when one feels tired.

After the first hundred kilometers, the boy should be in Masaka area. He will see the round shaped hills, big swamps and pineapple gardens. If the taxi or bus stops at a local market which is near the road, he should be able to buy something to eat. He must not however buy everything he wants. He shouldn't buy boiled maize or the sweet juice sold in bottles. He should buy either roasted maize or roasted bananas.

The road from Masaka to Mbarara is not good in most parts. The bus or taxi will be moving slowly most of the time. The young boy is likely to fall asleep. When he wakes up, he will be looking at both sides of the road. He should be able to see trees, grass, rocks, hills and valleys. He should also be able to see herds of cattle and goats. Some kilometres after the small town called Lyantonde, he is likely to see some wild animals grazing not far from the road. If he sees them, he should try to identify the various types. If he doesn't know their names, he should ask politely the passenger seated next to him. He might know what they are called. In this way the young traveller will find his journey very enjoyable and educative.

Questions:

- a) What is the story about?

- b) How much money does the boy pay for the journey?

- c) Which is the best seat for the boy in the bus?

- d) Give one reason why he should choose the back seat in a taxi.

- e) Where should the boy be after the first hundred kilometers?

- f) Why does a bus or taxi stop at a local market?

- g) In which part of the journey is the boy likely to fall asleep?

- h) What kind of animals is the boy likely to see after Lyantonde?

In questions (i) and (j) give another word or group of words with the same meaning as the words underlined in the passage.

- i) passengers _____
- ii) fare _____

"THE SONG OF THE CONFIDENCE OF YOUTHS"

Stand aside, all you merchants and bankers
Stand aside, all you dishonest preachers.
Stand aside, all you soldiers of war.
We can see what you really stand for.

We have lived in your world of corruption.
We've seen more than you taught us to see.
Now we're no longer fooled by excuses.
We won't be what you want us to be.

We are young and always hopeful,
And hope is a powerful thing
We are young and although we're not perfect
Atleast we try and we never give in.

51. Read the passage below and answer the questions that follow in full sentences.

At the end of every term, Annet is always sure of visiting either her relatives or any interesting places of her parents' choice. Her parents want her to relax her mind after three complete months of every day work at school since she is in a boarding school. Last holiday, Annet travelled to Kasese on a vacation. She was interested in visiting Queen Elizabeth National Park and Lake Katwe, which her teacher of Social Studies had talked about in some lessons during the term.

Three days after the term, Annet's parents, set the family for the journey to Kasese. They boarded their family car which the father drove immediately. Because the distance from Jinja to Kasese is long, Annet's mother also got to the steering wheel as they approached Mityana town. She never wanted her husband to get tired yet they wanted a safe drive. Reaching Kasese, they booked a residence at Wanyika Hotel. The following day on Tuesday, the family headed to the national park where they saw a lot of animals like elephants, lions, leopards, etc. They also had a boat cruise along Kazinga Channel at 2:00a.m. Annet was happy to see how salt is mined when they went to Lake Katwe.

On the third day, they decided to have a mountain climbing although it was not on their programme. They did this because one of the tour guides told them how interesting it is to climb up the mountain. The family enjoyed and Annet thanked her father and mother for the arrangement.

A FRIEND.

A friend is a treasure so rare
A bond that's strong, a love that's fair
Through laughter and tears, they're always near
Always present, year after year.

With a friend, you're never alone,
Together you share a special tone,
They lift you up when you're feeling down,
And help you find your way through life's town.

So cherish your friends, hold them right,
For they are a gift, a precious gift.

Kachinga village,

P.o.Box 202,

Mawundo

2nd November, 2018

Dear Mummy,

I am pleased to write to you again after such a long time. How are you and how is your work in Nairobi? Back here, we are alright and I am preparing for Primary Leaving Examination. (PLE)

Mummy, I am writing to inform you that our school has successfully registered us for PLE 2018 and we are very happy. Now I am ready to sit for the Primary Leaving Examination. Infact, all the candidates have been briefed by our head teacher, Mr. Kato Joseph.

During the briefing he said, "All of you should take note of the PLE timetable. This will help you to know how the subjects have been arranged." He also emphasized that we should read the general instructions carefully and those inside the question paper. After that, the head teacher gave a chance to all P.7 teachers to brief us too. Mrs. Akello, our class teacher advised on filling in information on the first page carefully. She also told us to read each question twice, understand it and then answer what is required.

The other three teachers talked about writing our responses in the space provided in the question paper. They encouraged us to have confidence in ourselves. They added that all the questions set are within the curriculum. They warned us against any kind of examination malpractice.

Mummy, the teacher also reassured us that we shall pass with flying colours. I am ready and revising seriously following the timetable. Pray for me not to forget what I was taught.

Please, send my regards to my little brother Jatel Anthony. I wish you all the best while doing your work.

Your loving daughter,
Katoko Elizabeth

51. Read the passage below and then answer in FULL SENTENCES the questions that follow.
Have you ever jumped into a lorry for a lift when it is running? A young man did it just last month and ended up with a broken leg.
- This is how it happened. He was walking along a village road in the rain when he jumped onto an open lorry for a lift. There was a long narrow box at the back of the lorry and the young man sat on it for some minutes before he realized that it was a coffin. He then decided to sit on the wet floor of the lorry. As it moved faster and faster, he watched the wet roads, the wet trees and wet village huts.
- Suddenly, he was frightened to see the coffin opening slowly and a hand coming out of the coffin. Then a voice from the coffin said, "Has it stopped raining yet?" The young man was so frightened that he jumped off the lorry shouting. As he fell into a ditch at the side of the road, he broke his leg. Later, it turned out the man in the coffin was also having a ride in the lorry and had got into the coffin to get shelter from rain.
