Omondi was a Primary Four pupil in Oburi Primary School in Nebbi district in 2024. One day, he embarked on a journey to his grandmother's place using his bicycle. He started his journey at 10:00a.m with the hope of reaching by 12:30p.m. The last time he was at his grandmother's place was when he was in Primary Two which is two years before this journey.

By 4:00p.m, Omondi was still riding as fast as he could. He got so tired that he got off the bike and decided to take a rest under a tree. As he was resting under a tree, he started wondering why he had not reached his destination yet it was a journey of about two or three hours. He realized he had already lost his way and it was getting late. He decided to ride back so as to retrace his way. He then asked some women to show him the way.

The women told him to park his bicycle and lie down on the road. He was frightened but he accepted to be down since it was not possible to run away and leave the bicycle behind. "You are a very ill-mannered boy," said the first woman. "A few hours back, you rode past us without greeting and now you are asking for help!" she added. "Even now, you have simply asked for direction without greeting! Who are your parents?" added the second woman. Omondi apologized to the women and added that his mind was focused on reaching the grandmother's place so he forgot to greet. The women forgave him after hearing his sincere apology and explanation.
