MAN'S EVASION OF GOD

The word “evasion” may be used to mean the following:

- Trying to do without something intentionally.
- Dodging.
- Turning away.
- Trying to forget.
- Running away.
- To ignore.

Therefore, the phrase “Man’s evasion of God” can be interpreted to mean the following

- Inability of man to consider God and respond to his requirement in their daily activities or behavior.
- The conduct of man which reflects dodging, or doing without God in their lives.
- The sinful acts of man which are contrary to God’s expectations.
- Behaving contrary to the principles required to live a godly life.

MAN'S EVASION OF GOD IN THE PRESENT SITUATION

The following are the ways through which man today tends evade God.

1. Through practicing sexual immorality like homosexuality, bestiality and prostitution. These are sexual deviations which are against the divine intention of God for sex. Accordingly, sex is for pro – creation, mutual love and companionship. Besides, the body of every believer is the temple of God. Therefore, such acts defile God’s temple.
2. Man is getting involved in murder or killing each other. However, God blessed the human beings to multiply and fill the world. This meant that God had empowered to continue bringing and preserving but not to destroy.
3. Some people worship many gods. This is against the monotheistic faith of the believers and therefore, against the oneness of God.
4. Man evades God by practicing witchcraft, magic and sorcery. This tends to cause harms onto others resulting into death and disharmony among others. Besides, believing in such powers reflect distrust in God’s powers and man’s desire to act independent of him.
5. Some people are selfish and therefore they tend to ignore the needs of those who are unable to fend for themselves. However, Jesus encouraged every believer to share with others is rewarded in the heavenly kingdom. He demonstrated this by encouraging the rich fool to sell all his wealth and give the proceeds to the poor in order to attain the heavenly treasure.

6. Some people are involved in theft. By stealing one another's property, one breaks the commandment of God which forbids such an act. Therefore, stealing is an act of disobedience before.

7. Some people swear falsely in the name of God. They take an oath promising to fulfill their duties which unfortunately they fail to do so. This show disrespect to the name of God.
8. Some people evade God through discriminating each other. They basing on sex, tribe, religion and color among others. This is sinful because all human are equal before God.
9. Some people live a prayer less life. They tend to put barriers to their communication with God and forget that He exists.
10. Some people are unrepentant and fail to put themselves right with others and with God. They continue to be sinful. They forget Jesus' teaching that only the righteous would inherit the kingdom of God.
11. Some people drink alcohol excessively. However, wine is a mocker is it defiles the purity of one's body.
12. Some people believe and practice superstition. They are strongly carried out by the belief that something bad is bound to happen by tagging particular events on to situations. This is lack of trust in God's power and protection.
13. People evade God through revenging and avenging on their enemies for their wrongs. However, Jesus encouraged every believer to forgive their enemies seventy-seven times seven. Besides, He said that the merciful here on earth would experience the father's mercy in His heavenly kingdom.
14. Some people evade God by exploiting the needy including the disabled and poor. This is under looking at God's creation.
15. Some people evade God by participating in gambling. This is sinful before God who created human beings to be workers.
16. God is evaded through hating one another. This hatred has always resulted into conflict thus creating disharmony and instability. This is disrespecting Jesus' desire for every believer to extend love to another.
17. Other individuals worship religious officials, places and objects other than God. These are obstacles to people's communication to God.
18. People are turning away from God by being materially minded. Because of the material wealth, such people are not bothered about God. This is because they believe that they have everything a human being needs.
19. Others evade God by being too evident. Such people treat others harshly without mercy. This is against God's will for mankind where harmony is the life desired.
20. The cases of corruption, bribery and embezzlement are forms of evasion of God. These are people who are self-centered and do not care about the needs of others.
21. Struggling for power is very common in the society today. The leaders in particular tend to fight each other as they crave for positions of authority. They forget that authority is God given.
22. People evade God through putting emphasis on one religious denominations and criticizing the others instead of believing in God. For example, it is difficult for a Christian who is a Protestant to go and pray in the Catholic church and vice versa.

23. Some people tend to blame God for whatever problems they encounter. They hold God responsible for their suffering other than looking at their own mistakes and putting themselves right with God through repentance.

CAUSES OF (REASONS FOR) MAN'S EVASION OF GOD TODAY

1. Accumulation of wealth makes some people to turn away from God. Such people think that they have everything they need in life. For this reason, they cannot see the importance of believing in and having God in their lives especially when they begin to think that they made their wealth on their own.
2. The suffering of some religious people just like pagans in the form of diseases and poverty among others turns some people away from God. People think that God is always there to guard these people. Therefore, their suffering makes it appear that God is not there.
3. Frustration in life makes some people to evade God. In an event of persistent or continuous suffering with all avenues for improvement exploited, a person may be forced to think that God has abandoned him or her.
4. Conflicting, controversial and different teachings by different religious leaders can discourage some people from believing in God. This tends to confuse people.
5. The delay in the proclaimed second coming of Christ tends to discourage some from believing in God. Such people tend to become too impatient and get caught up with the thinking and the feeling that such a preaching is false and may never come.
6. Bad behavior of some religious leaders like involving in defilement, rape, corruption, stealing church funds and many others. This discourages people from following and believing in the gospel truth.
7. To some people, believing in God restricts them from enjoying the pleasures of life like drinking alcohol and fornication among others. Therefore, they tend to ignore God in their lives in order to enjoy such pleasures of the world.
8. The discrimination practiced by some church leaders leads to evasion of God. For example, some religious leaders tend to respect the rich more than the poor yet they teach that all people are equal before God.
9. Economic hardships including poverty tend to make some people to ignore God. Because of desperate situations, God seems far away from them. It is for this reason that such people tend to concentrate on the practical ways of solving the problems rather than spiritual.
10. Poor preaching methods by some religious leaders make some people to be less interested in God. Some of the leaders over attack the believers during their sermons. Others tend to quarrel and abuse the worshippers and are perceived to be rude and boring. This makes some people to avoid going to churches.

11. Some people evade God because of the influence of formal education. To such people, the knowledge acquired may become a barrier to their belief in the existence of God which they cannot prove.
12. Some people tend to associate Christianity with the coming of the white people to Africa. To such people, the Christian faith is foreign to them. This is why they refer to it as the “white man’s religion” imposed on the black Africans.
13. Some people evade God because of their past sinful life. They feel that they have committed a number of crimes to the point where they cannot be forgiven.
14. The absence or the rare occurrences of miracles today as opposed to what is preached in the bible makes people to doubt God. Some people in desperate situations like childlessness and constant illnesses may get the feeling that God is ignoring them. This makes it difficult for such people to believe in the gospel truth, as they cannot see the miracles they expect.
15. Some people evade God because of failing to obtain material benefits from the church like education, money or any other tangible assistance. For such schemers, religious activities prayer, praise and worship may become time consuming without any material growth.
16. Existence of African traditional religion makes it difficult for people to truly believe in Christianity, which is seen to be “foreign”.
17. Some people are forced to ignore God because of the influence from their peers especially if such friends are non-believers. To identify themselves with the group, they have to behave exactly like the members.
18. Evasion of God is as a result of the Christian teaching failing to solve the immediate problems of the people. Problems such as accidents, diseases, poverty and unemployment have continued to exist despite the commitment of the people in their faith. In this way, some people think God seems to care less about the fate about his people.
19. Some people evade God because they are impatient. Such people think that their prayers should be answered immediately. Therefore, in case of delay, they think that God has forgotten them.
20. The influence of science and modern technology makes some people to turn away from God. Among the benefits, science has enabled man to solve some of his immediate problems like diseases without reference to God. Above all, to such people, for anything said to exist it must be proved. Unfortunately, they have failed to prove the existence of God through their discoveries.
21. Some people believe more in the practice of magic and witchcraft which seems to solve their problems. This can explain why some people still respect the demands of the traditional gods to the extent of offering children as sacrifice in order to obtain riches.

22. Some people are forced to ignore God because of the influence from their peers. This is especially if such friends are less interested in religious activities. For them to fit and identify themselves with the group, they have to behave exactly like the members.

Revision Question:

Qn.1. How is the church contributing to man's evasion in God today?

- Ignoring the tangible needs of the believers especially of the poor.
- Over demanding material support from the believers in form of donations.
- Discriminating the believers basing on sex, possessions and age.
- Open rivalry or conflict among the religious leaders.
- Corruption of some church leaders or being entangled in dirty deals.
- Making empty promises to the believers.
- Poor or boring methods of preaching the good news of salvation.
- Partisan politics which tends to divide the believers.
- False prophets or telling lies.
- Over demanding time for only religious activities amidst pressing needs.

HOW THE CHURCH IS BRINGING MAN BACK TO GOD

1. Through modernization of the ways of praising and worshiping God. This is done by using modern musical instruments like guitars and pianos. This helps to attract more people particularly the youth to attend masses and the church services since the occasions become more enjoyable.
2. Through providing education services to the people they serve. This is being done through religious founded schools like St. Mary's college Kisubi and Our Lady Queen of Africa Rubaga Girls' Secondary school. In such schools, religious activities like prayers are compulsory. Besides, the church offers scholarship to committed children from the disadvantaged families.
3. Through providing recreational centres like Nsambya sharing hall. Such places are used for entertainment purposes among others.
4. Establishing and running media centres like Light House Television, Radio Maria. This is attractive to people of all ages.
5. By organizing and encouraging bible studies. This may be on the daily or weekly basis especially in the evening hours. It helps to bring the believers together and inspire them more.
6. By providing guidance and counseling services to the people. This has given a sense of direction to those who are spiritually lost because of the problems in life.
7. The church has always organized the youth camps. This has allowed interaction with highly profiled religious leaders like bishops and dignified preachers. During such occasions, the youth vigorously participate in fellowship, prayer, praise and worship.

8. The church is building more structures to accommodate the increasing number of believers. Such buildings like Rubaga and Kansanga Miracle centres are well decorated and furnished and therefore attractive. This enables the congregation to be more comfortable thus making them enjoy sermons.
9. The church sponsors extra and co-curricular activities like football, netball and music dance and drama among others. In the Catholic church, there is an annual competition in music, dance and drama between the schools within a diocese. This has always created unity among such schools among other benefits.
10. Organizing and encouraging fellowship among believers. This helps in creating unity and making believers strong and firm in their faith.
11. The church is involving more people particularly youth in its management and administration. Responsibilities like ushers, wardens and altar boys are shared among the people. This tends to make the people feel that they are part of the church.
12. The church gives support to its organization including Young Christian Society, scripture union and Mother's Union among others. This helps to bring themselves together as they actively participate in affairs of the church.
13. The church provides employment opportunities in the public. Such employment are given to teachers and doctors among others. This helps to improve on the standards of living and because of this, they tend to pay their loyalty to the church.
14. There are also charity organizations like Watoto Children founded by the church to help the disadvantaged like the poor and the orphans. Such organizations cater for the basic needs of the needy by providing food, shelter and education. This helps to attract more people to the church and makes them more committed as well.

MAN'S EVASION OF GOD AFRICAN TRADITIONAL SOCIETY

Much as the people in African Traditional Society had a deep-rooted belief in the existence of the supreme God, there were times when they behaved contrary to their beliefs.

Some traditional Africans could turn to believe in divinities (lesser gods) for assistance. They could consult such lesser gods in extreme cases like death, severe drought and famine through praying to them and offering sacrifices.

1. Africans honored and respected religious rituals, shrines and religious leaders as being holy and at times more important than God.
2. Some Africans used to wear protective charms on their body parts like around waist and neck. This showed the people's lack of trust in God's protection.
3. The traditional Africans worshipped the ancestral spirits instead of God. They forgot that the ancestors were simply mediators between man and God.
4. The Africans believed in wars as opposed to peaceful means of solving conflicts. They could organize for raids and this made people suffer.
5. The traditional Africans practiced magic, sorcery and witchcraft. This involved manipulating the minds of the people to make them believe in something. This caused harm, conflict and disharmony. Some even lost their lives. This meant that they trusted their other powers instead of trusting God's mighty power to act in any given situation.

6. Some traditional Africans disrespected their own customs and the taboos of the society some of which carried religious meaning.
7. The Africans held a deep belief in superstitions. Among the Acholi people, meeting a cat especially the black one as one was on a mission like hunting, was a bad omen and it was possible for one to abandon the mission. This undermined God as being the controller of world events.
8. The Africans were involved in human sacrifices. This was done in respecting the demand of the ancestral spirits. This was murder and against their own belief in God as the creator.
9. Some traditional Africans blamed God for uncertainties like death and famine. Such were misfortune believed to have been upon the people by the spiritual world.
10. The culture of the revenging and avenging was common among the Africans. This made the people to live under fear and it also promoted a rough life like fighting.
11. In some communities, the less fortunate like the women, strangers and disabled were discriminated and mistreated as if they were sub-human beings.
12. Some traditional Africans trusted their own wisdom other than God. They believed that they were capable of doing anything on their own without God's blessing or approval.
13. The traditional Africans evaded God through making blood pacts and later breaking it. They showed faith and trusted in the pact other than God's power.
14. Some traditional Africans worshiped physical features such as mountains, big trees, hills and forests. Such places were respected for their "holiness". In Buganda, the "Nakayima tree" now in the current district of Mubende was treated with such respect. Even rocks with unique curving were adored.
15. There used to be power struggle among the Africans. They could fight to the extent of killing each other. However, even the people they struggled to rule were victimized by their fights.

MAN'S EVASION OF GOD IN CHURCH HISTORY

The early Christians:

The body of believers who lived immediately after the ascension of Jesus Christ experienced problems in the administration of the church despite having key personalities including the apostles like Saint Paul and Peter. These problems made the believers to evade God in the following ways:

1. The evasion of God had begun much earlier when Jesus Christ was still alive. Many people became confused with the teaching and the belief of God being three in one person. Others found it difficult to believe that Christ was truly God evasion of God.
2. There was division among the believers. The believers started following personalities like Paul, Peter and Apollo while a section claimed that they followed only Jesus Christ. This was the reason St. Paul in his letter to the Corinthians had to defend the church to say that they were all baptized in the name of Jesus Christ and were therefore one.

3. There was also persecution of the believers. Saint Paul before his conversion was one of those who moved up and down torturing everyone who believed in the gospel of Jesus Christ.
4. Idol worship existed among the believers. In the city of Corinth, Christians used to make sacrifices to idols. This was against the monotheistic faith of the believers as Jesus Christ had emphasized.
5. Some believers rejected the apostles of Jesus Christ. Saint Paul was rejected by the Galatians who accused him of being a persecutor before his conversion.
6. Some of the early Christians were involved in mob justice. A case in point was Stephen who was stoned to death. This was murder which was against the commandment of God. (Acts 7:54).
7. There was discrimination among the believers particularly between the rich and the poor. This was during the Lord's supper and agape meals. However, this was a fellowship gathering meant to bring the believers together. (1 Corinthians 5:1-77).
8. Some of the early Christians involved in sexual immorality. Among the Corinthians, there used to be incest and prostitution. This defiled the bodies of the believers. (1 Corinthians 5:1ff and 6:1ff).
9. Some believers were dishonest. For example, Ananias and Saphira hid some amount of money they had got from the sale of their property yet they were required to declare everything to the church (Acts 5:1-77).
10. Some of the believers held the attitude of "Leave it all to God". Because of this, some of them abandoned working and sold off their property in order for them to concentrate on prayer leaving everything for God
11. Some of the believers became liars. For example, Ananias and Saphira lied to Peter about the sale of their property.

The middle ages:

This was a period marked by a reformation (changes) in the church. However, because of the changes, many Christians found themselves evading God in the following ways:

1. The Christians were taken up by the songs of praises particularly the hymns composed by Bishop Ambrose. Every effort was directed towards singing well in the church and this made them to forget the Christian virtues.
2. Many Christians concentrated on building monuments. They built images of great personalities who had contributed significantly to the growth and development of the church in and around the cathedrals. Many of these monuments were greatly adored by the Christians.
3. Some Christians concentrated on decorating the church buildings with beautiful pictures including those of saints. Some of them thought they would be put right with God through such activities rather than repentance.

4. There also developed a wrong interpretation of the trinity. Some Christians came to believe that God the father, the son and the Holy Spirit were independent of each other.
5. Some of the Christians were taken up by wealth. They thought that they had everything they wanted in life and ignored God.
7. The educated Christians developed a thinking that God was only for the poor and ignorant or illiterate people.
8. Some of the Christians put a lot of emphasis on religious practices like reciting rosary. They were very strict about such a practice and forgot all about following and living a true Christian life.
9. Some Christians worshipped and respected the remains of great Christians and holy personalities particularly that of the saints. Their clothes and the shoes among others were adored as being holy and were treated with a lot of respect.
10. There developed the pre-destination doctrine (teaching) among the Christians under the leadership of John Calvin of Switzerland. It was widely taught that God had determined the destiny of a person before his or her birth to either go to heaven or to hell and nothing human could be done to change the arrangement. This was so confusing and misleading that it made some of the believers to give up with their faith.
11. The Christians also developed the doctrine of the sales of indulgence. By this, the religious leaders particularly the priests encouraged the believers to give some gifts like money in order for their sins to be forgiven. This made any of the rich Christians to think that they could buy salvation and they therefore forgot about repenting their sins.
12. Some of the Christians honoured and almost worshipped the religious leaders among them including the pope, bishops and the priests.
13. The missionaries used threatening method when preaching in order to win people's faith. God was presented as being a harsh judge who could never forgive. This instead scared the believers.
14. A lot of emphasis was put on the correct ways of worshiping other than the worshipping of God itself. This made Christianity to appear to be restrictive to the hatred of many.

MAN'S EVASION OF GOD IN THE OLD TESTAMENT

When God created the human both male and female in His likeness (Genesis 1:26ff), He expected them to respond to Him with faith. In Genesis 2:1ff God even involved man in his work of creation when he was given the responsibility of naming other creatures and later put him in the Garden of Eden to cultivate and guard it.

However, the events that followed saw man fall apart with God and this marked the beginning of the human race disappointing, ignoring and acting independent of God.

1. The first human beings disobeyed the simple command God had given them by eating the forbidden fruit. By doing so, man rebelled against God and tried to equate themselves with God. They also expressed greediness and became unrepentant (Genesis 3:1-7).
2. In the story of Cain and Abel, man acted with selfishness and jealousy. This led later resulted into murder when Cain killed his own brother and denied being responsible for him. It was for this reason that God disapproved his actions by punishing him (Genesis 4:1ff).
3. The builders of the tower of Babel, tried to act independent of God but with a disastrous ending. Their plan to reach God in the sky through their building involved false wisdom, selfishness, pride, lack of faith and trust in God and their desire to equate themselves with him. This could be used to explain reason as why God punished them by mixing their language and destroying the building itself. (Genesis 11:1ff).
4. While in Egypt, the Israelites were oppressed and exploited through hard labour. The injustices against the Israelites displeased God as reflected in the call of Moses and the eventual liberation of the Israelites.
5. The Israelites evaded God by worshiping idols. At the foot of mount Sinai, they made a molten calf to represent Yahweh (Exodus 32:1-7). While in the promised land, they went on to worship the idols of foreign gods. This was against their monotheistic faith as established at the foot of mountain Sinai.
6. The Israelites practiced sexual immorality such as prostitution and incest. This was an evasion of God because it was against the covenant faith. A case in point was Hosea's wife who continued with her prostitution despite the husband's plea for her to stop it (Hosea 4:1-15).
7. The Israelites demanded to have an earthly king. This was a direct rejection of God's authority as their ruler and therefore against theocratic background (1 Samuel 8:1-10).
8. The Israelites evaded God by struggling for power. Their struggle for power showed their disrespect to God's divine choice of the persons He wanted to rule His people. King Saul unsuccessfully tried to kill David after he realized that the Lord had rejected him and favoured David to become the next king of Israel (1 Samuel 19:1-4, and Kings 11:26-41).
9. The Israelites disobeyed the Lord's command of carrying out the act of Herem. While in the wilderness on their way to the promised land, God, through Moses commanded

- to destroy their enemies and their property. However, when king Saul and soldiers were told to do so, he spared king Agag and the fatty animals of Amalekites.
10. The Israelites evaded God by persecuting and despising the prophets. Prophet Elijah suffered greatly in the hands of king Ahab and his pagan wife Jezebel. Even Jeremiah was beaten up and chained upon the orders of priest Pashhur.
 11. The Israelites become unrepentant. They continued with their sinfulness despite warnings from the Lord's prophets. For example, king Solomon continued with his sinful ways even when the Lord appeared to him commanding him to stop it.
 12. The Israelites evaded God by practicing religious syncretism. They worshiped Yahweh besides other gods like Baal and Molech- the disgusting god of Ammon. This was against the covenant faith, which demanded the worship of only God.
 13. Some of them disrespected their parents. The two sons of Eli, Phinehas and Hophni disrespected him and continued with their misbehavior of sleeping with the women who served in the tent of the Lord's presence at Shiloh. This was against the Lord's commandment which required respect of parents. It was for this reason that the Lord rejected them as his priest.
 14. The Israelites got involved in murder. For example, king David plotted the death of Uriah – his faithful soldier and yet the law had forbidden killing.
 15. The Israelites evaded God by selling parts of the Canaan land to foreigners. King Solomon sold off twenty towns in the region of Galilee to king Hiram of Tyre but this land belonged to Yahweh.

EVASION OF GOD IN THE NEW TESTAMENT

1. The Jews rejected Jesus Christ as the Messiah. They referred to Him as the son of Joseph the carpenter and therefore remained opposed to his teaching. This was because Jesus Christ came as a spiritual Messiah at the time when the Jews expected a political messiah to set them from the rule of the Romans (Matthew 14:13).
2. The Jews turned the temple of God into a market instead of using it as a place of worship as referred to it. This was the reason Jesus overturned their tables and beat them up.
3. The Jews got involved in marital unfaithfulness. This was presented in the story of the woman caught in adultery whom Jesus forgave for the offense (John 8:1ff).
4. The Jews put a lot of emphasis on religious practices like fasting that it almost enslaved the people. When Jesus tried to correct their wrong attitude, the Pharisees regarded Him as a law breaker (Mark 2:18-22).
5. The Jews particularly the Pharisees were very strict on the observation of the Sabbath day. It had become such a burden to the Jews. It was this reason that Jesus had to tell them that the Sabbath was meant for man but not for the Sabbath. He meant that man had to enjoy freedom on such a day instead of being enslaved (Mark 2:23ff).

6. Some of the Jews rejected the teaching of Jesus Christ. They stubbornly remained opposed to the gospel truth as Jesus preached. Jesus explained this in the parable of the sower (Mark 4:1-77).
7. The religious leaders particularly the Pharisees were very proud of who they were. They took themselves to be more religious than anybody else.
8. There was persecution of the believers among the Jews. St. Paul before his conversion was one of those who persecuted whoever believed in the gospel of Jesus Christ.
9. The Jews had the thinking that Jesus Christ was only for them. This made them to think that salvation was only for them. However, they failed to realise that Jesus had come as a universal savior. According to the gospel of Saint John, it was for the love that God had for mankind that He sent His begotten son to die in order for everyone to attain salvation (John 1:1ff).
10. There was religious hypocrisy particularly by the Pharisees. As much as they were the custodian of the law, they behaved contrary to the expectations.
11. There was discrimination among the believers. This was practiced even in the places of worship in respect of one's possession. The poor in particular were ignored and the rich favoured. The Jews also discriminated against the gentles or the non-Jews.
12. The Jews had the heart of revenge. They continued to serve God with their unforgiving hearts. Jesus illustrated this in the parable of the unforgiving servant. Accordingly, the servant beat up his fellow servant who owed him yet his master had just pardoned for the same. (Matthew 11:21-77).
13. God was evaded through selfishness. This was demonstrated in the story of the rich fool who failed to share part of his harvest with the needy. (Luke 2:12-21).

Guiding Questions:

- Qn.1. Why was Jesus against the official religion of His time?
Qn.2. Why did Jesus condemn the religious leaders of His time?

JESUS' RESPONSE OR REACTION TO THE EVASION OF GOD

The coming of Jesus Christ is presented as God's continuous effect to bring man nearer to Him. By His coming, Jesus established the Kingdom of God on earth and in doing so, He expected every believer to respond to His call of salvation.

1. Jesus identified Himself as the way, the truth and the life for every believer. He urged every believer to look unto Him for their salvation. (John 14:16).
2. Jesus declared himself as the son of God sent to bring the good news of salvation to the entire world (John 5:19ff).
3. Jesus encouraged all the believers to repent their sins. He pointed out that through repentance, God would forgive every believer and as a result, they would be His children.
4. Jesus said that salvation was for everyone. For this reason, He expected everyone to respond positively to the good news He had come with (Luke 3:6).

5. Jesus called upon the believers to be open and His message as they look for the truth in life. He said such people would be happy in the heavenly kingdom. He illustrated this by giving the example of Zacchaeus who accepted his message and left his past behind (Luke 19:1ff).
6. Jesus encouraged forgiveness and reconciliation among the believers. He expected a believer to forgive seventy-seven times seven. He later demonstrated this in the story of the prodigal son. Accordingly, the father forgave him after he had wasted the share of his wealth. However, this was to the disappointment of his brother (Luke 15:11).
7. Jesus encouraged His followers to be merciful to each other. He said he who is merciful would experience his father's mercy in his heavenly kingdom. He considered this as one of the true sources of happiness to every believer (Matthew 5:7).
8. He advised the believers to be born again in order for them to attain the heavenly glory. This was in a conversation with Nicodemus when he talked about spiritual rebirth for one to attain salvation through the ritual of water baptism (John 3:1ff).
9. Jesus called upon the believers to put their trust in God as their father in order to get what they desired (Matthew 7:7-11).
10. Jesus called upon the believers to give assistance to those in need like the poor and the orphans. This was by giving examples of the rich man who He told to sell off his property and give the proceeds to the poor and follow. He showed hard it is for a rich person to enter the kingdom of God (Luke 18:18ff).
11. Jesus presented God being with all the believers. For this reason, He urged the believers to look onto themselves instead of looking elsewhere.
12. Jesus referred to Himself to look as a good shepherd and that the believers were like lost sheep. Accordingly, he said that he knew his animals by name and would take care of them.
13. Jesus called upon the believers to love God with all their strength, soul and mind as they are looking for him.
14. Jesus encouraged believers to love their enemies and be good to them instead of having them hated.
15. Jesus encouraged the followers to tolerate human sufferings which are for the good of others. He showed this by tolerating his suffering so that man would be set free from the bondage of sin.
16. Christ attacked the Jews for being religiously proud because of their strict emphasis on religious customs, practices, places and the persons. He said this could not put any man right with God.
17. Jesus said that the person should pray honestly. He showed that the heavenly father to respond and give them their needs.
18. He condemned the legalistic attitude of the Pharisees who thought they were righteous by observing the law.
19. Jesus encouraged the followers to ask, seek and knock. He who does so would receive, find and have the door opened (Matthew 7:7).

Guiding Question:

Qn.1. Why did the Jews reject Jesus as a messiah or the savior?

Consider the following points which are already discussed under the sub – theme of success. In particular, look at the reasons why the Jews perceived Jesus as a failure.

- Jesus was born from a poor background.
- Jesus was baptized like any other sinner.
- Jesus was tempted by satan and therefore appeared human.
- He was materially poor.
- Jesus fasted for forty days and he was considered as a mad person.
- He associated with sinners or the outcast like the prostitute woman.
- Jesus' act of cleansing the temple made him to appear against his own people.
- Jesus remained single even his youthful years.
- Jesus was arrested as a criminal.
- Jesus was betrayed by his own apostles Judas Iscariot.
- Jesus was also denied three times by his own apostle Peter.
- Jesus came as spiritual messiah yet the Jews expected a political messiah.
- Jesus kept on emphasizing that he had come to fulfill His father's will.
- Jesus was disowned by his disciples and appeared to have been abandoned by his father who sent him (Mark 14:50 and 15:34).
- Jesus' own disciples failed to understand his teaching (Mark 14:13-20).

CHRISTIAN INVOLVEMENT IN THE WORLD

Christian involvement means the following:

- The active participation of Christians in the affairs of their own community.
- The role, activities or work of the Christians aimed at developing the society.
- It is the services that Christians render or offer in the society in which they live.

In their involvement, Christians tend to follow their faith as they search for the true meaning of life and in fulfilling the requirement of the scripture.

In Uganda today, Christians are involved in human affairs in the following ways:

1. Helping the needy such as the poor, orphans and the disabled among others. This is what described as alms giving or charity work. A number of church founded organizations like Watoto Children and Sanyu Babies Home at Namirembe take the responsibility of providing for the needs of such disadvantaged people giving them food, shelter, education and medical care among others.
2. The Christians have always been in the fore front calling for peaceful means of solving conflict or disagreement among people. As they strive to reconcile the aggrieved parties, they encourage the members to sit at a round table to settle their misunderstanding and forgive one another. For example, from the late 1990s, retired bishop reverend Mark Baker Ochola and bishop reverend Onono Onweny – both of the Anglican church played important roles in calling upon the Ugandan government and the rebel group Lord's Resistance Army (LRA), under the leadership of Joseph Kony, to settle the northern war through dialogue. Their effort also led to the formation of the Acholi Religious Leaders Peace Initiative (ARLPS).
3. Some Christians are involved in the fight against dictatorship. They condemn the violation of human rights. For example, the Uganda Joint Christian Council advocates for the observation of human rights.
4. There are many Christian organizations that are serving the people in different ways. The Catholic Relief Service (CRS) played a tremendous role as people in northern Uganda were living in the Internally Displaced Camps (IDC). It provided people with basic needs like food and clothes among others.
5. Christians are also translating the gospel into various languages. This is an effort to cater for all categories of people such that they can read and understand the good news.
6. Christians are involved in offering guidance and counseling services to people around them. The serenity centre in Ggaba in Kampala has been helping to counsel people whose conditions or problems seem chronic including the alcoholic. This has helped to give a ray of hope to those who seemingly have given up in life.
7. Christians are actively offering medical services to people. This is being done through church managed hospitals like St. Mary's hospital Lacor in Gulu district and Nsambya hospital in Kampala. The improved the health of the people enables - them to engage in productive activities for the development of their families and the country.

8. There are media centres belonging to the church. They include radio and television stations like Light House Television and Radio Maria and power FM respectively all located in Kampala. Such centres have benefits including employment, sources of entertainment and information among others.
 9. Christians provide education services to the people they serve. This is through religious founded schools like St. Mary's college Kisubi and Our Lady Queen of African Rubaga Girls' secondary school. In such schools, religious activities like prayers are compulsory. Besides, the church offers scholarships to children from the disadvantaged committed families.
 10. Christians are involved in creating and managing income generating projects or corporations. Among others, centenary Bank is under the direct management of the Catholic church. This is contributing to the development and offering employment opportunities.
 11. The church is preaching the gospel in various communities. This is an effort to strengthen the faith of the people they are serving.

HOW CHRISTIANS CAN CREAT UNITY TODAY

1. Being exemplary in the community, which they live. This can influence the behavior of other people to live in the same way.
2. Christians can organize fellowship. This can bring different people together as they share the word of God.
3. Encouraging the spirit of sharing among the people. By sharing their belonging, those who have and those without or with less are brought nearer to each other. This helps to fight social evils like selfishness and greediness, which tends be divisive.
4. Treating all people equally and associating with everyone irrespective of the social, economic and political background.
5. Christians need to accept that they are also seekers of God. This can help to attract even the people who think they are sinful and thus leading them back to God through repentance.
6. Christians need to campaign for the observation of human rights. This can help people to recognize and honour the value of one another.
7. Being non -partisan in politics. They should treat and take all political parties as important and equal to each other in the government of the country.
8. By giving support to the needy group of people like orphans, poor and disabled. This can be in the form of clothes, shelter and food. This may help to bridge the gap between the poor and the rich.
9. By acting as agents of forgiveness and reconciliation in the event of conflict. They should convince such aggrieved parties to sort out their differences in peaceful way.
10. Christians should pay attention to state duties and functions instead of keeping a distance. This is by paying taxes and celebrating important days such as

Independence Day, Heroes' day and women's day. This can make people to rally behind the government in place.

11. Christians can create unity by participating in decision – making process regarding the governance of the society. This puts Christians in a better position to advocate for friendly policies that in effect can bring the people together.
12. Christians can also create unity by preaching the good news of love to everyone. Love is important because it can create a situation where people are able to live as brothers and sisters.
13. Organizing public meetings and discussions can help in creating unity among people. This is because it becomes an avenue of coming together and sharing their ideas.
14. Giving full support to ecumenical movements can also act as a tool for Christians to forge unity among the people. Ecumenism is a movement that aims at bringing unity between the various divisions of the Christian faith. This is very important since some religious denominations preach against each other.
15. Christians can bring unity among people by empowering the youth and the under privileged. This can raise the status of such people to meaningful level.

HOW CHRISTIANS CAN PARTICIPATE IN POLITICS

1. Through voting for their desired candidates. This may include presidential, members of parliament and local council's candidates.
2. Campaigning to be voted for as representatives of people in the different political posts like president and members of parliament.
3. Sensitizing the public about their rights and the political affairs or development in the country. This helps to create awareness among the people especially when it comes to elections thus helping them to make the best and informed decisions for their country.
4. Participating in public political debate or talk shows. During such debates, topical issues like term limits which are important in the governance of the country are discussed. Such talk shows include "On the Spot" screened on NTV and "Capital Ganga" in 91.3 Capital radio among others.
5. Respecting and observing National days like independence and heroes' days. By doing so, the Christians identify themselves with important events that marked the political development of the country.
6. Holding peaceful demonstrations in cases where they feel dissatisfied with what is taking place or where ever and whenever they feel their rights have been violated. This can act as a wakeup call for political leaders to serve their people. For example the "Walk to Work protest" that characterized the year 2011 by the opposition leaders including Dr. Kiiza Besigye of Forum for Democratic Change and Mao Nibert of Democratic Party because of high fuel and food prices.
7. Attending public rallies especially where matter of public interest including good governance are discussed.

8. Expressing their views on matters relating to the governance of the country. This can be through writing articles in nationally recognized magazines like the independent under the stewardship of Andrew Mwenda and newspapers including the New Vision and the Daily Monitor. Such writings may help to bring to the attention of the government of what the public think.
9. Opposing the dictatorship of the government peacefully especially when its policies limit the freedom of the people.
10. Attending national conferences, workshops or seminars organized by the government. This enables the Christians to express their views for matters relating to the affairs of the country freely.
11. Giving advices to the political leaders like the members of parliament and local councils among others. This can help such political leaders to serve the people better.
12. Attending court sessions especially where the cases are about the political development of the country. This can help to ensure that there is fairness in judging cases.
13. Paying taxes effectively and regularly as may be required by the government. This is important in aiding government programmes like the provision of medical and educational services and constructing roads among others.
14. Promoting government policies like family planning and Universal Primary and Secondary Education.

REASONS FOR CHRISTIAN PARTICIPATION IN POLITICS

1. Christians should participate in politics in order to subdue the world. God, in the beginning commanded man to bring the world under his control (Genesis 1:28). Therefore, participation in politics by the Christians is one way of bringing the world under their control.
2. It helps the Christians to promote the spirit of brotherhood. This can bring about unity in diversity.
3. It enables the Christians to encourage the political leaders to fulfill their promises. This makes it possible for the ordinary citizens to enjoy the fruits of elections.
4. Participation in politics by Christians can help to bring sinners back to God. This is possible if the Christians can encourage and promote values like love, humility and forgiveness. Jesus demonstrated this by associating closely with the outcasts like the prostitute woman and the tax collector.
5. It can help to minimize election malpractice like rigging. This can ensure that the most capable and acceptable leaders are elected.
6. Christians should participate in politics in order to show a good example to other leaders. Such a Christian becomes a pace setter or a role model for the rest of the political leaders to follow in order to serve the people better.
7. It ensures that there is fair play in the government especially during important times like the drafting of the constitution or while debating bills (proposed laws). The

- Christians can guide the discussion basing on values like fairness, tolerance and love.
8. It encourages the spirit of togetherness in the community. The fruit of this may be peace and harmony among the community members.
 9. It can help a Christian to implement and establish justice in matters relating to the affairs of the country. This enables everyone enjoy the fruits of good politics which may include better roads and improved medical facilities.
 10. Christians should participate in politics to help ensure peaceful change of government. This may be possible if the Christians can sensitize the public that authority is God given and thus impart values of sharing and humility among others.
 11. Participating in politics gives the Christians the opportunity to render support ti their own people especially those disadvantaged like the poor and the orphans. This is important in improving standards of living of such persons.
 12. Christian’s participation in politics can help to resolve conflict among people. In such a case, the Christians become bridge builders in bringing people having misunderstanding together and thus settling their differences.
 13. Participating in politics by Christians can help in extending the kingdom of God. Before going back to heaven, Jesus instructed his apostles to make everybody a believer before his second coming.
 14. Participation in politics by Christians can create unity in diversity. This becomes important in the pluralistic society where misunderstanding is always caused by differences in the political, religious and social beliefs. Therefore, it is the duty for the Christians to help the people understand that they are all one and are children of God.
 15. It is a duty for a Christian to obey civil authority for the authority is God – given. In this teaching, Jesus said “Give to Caesar what belongs to Caesar and to God what belongs to God”. By saying so, Jesus was encouraging His disciples to pay the tax required (Matthew 22:15-22).
 16. Participating in politics by the Christians is an act of showing obedience to the state. Saint Peter advised the believers to submit to every human authority for the sake of the Lord (1 Peter 2:13).
 17. It provides Christians with the opportunity to offer guidance and counselling to the political leaders and the members they serve.

REASONS AGAINST CHRISTIAN PARTICIPATION IN POLITICS

1. Politics tends to divide the population basing on the political parties. This is against the oneness in Jesus Christ and the God they serve.
2. It can easily make Christian to be liars. This is especially as they look for votes. This means that the incapable leaders may be the ones chosen.
3. Politics can make a Christian put himself or herself above the others. This contradicts Jesus' teaching on authority where the greatest in the heavenly kingdom is one who is a servant (Matthew 20:26).
4. Participating in politics can easily make Christians forget God's duties. This is because of the many engagements including carrying out rallies and debates.
5. Politics creates enmity among the people. This is because it leaves people in two or more rival blocks basing on the political parties.
6. Politics may make the Christians materialistic. This may become a blockage to the commitment Christians are meant to have towards their faith as they may be pre-occupied with the struggle for such material things.
7. Politics makes a Christian chaotic. By becoming chaotic, they fail to copy the life of Jesus characterized by humility, tolerance and love.
8. Politics is a cheap way of seeking popularity by the Christians. This may be as a result of being known for doing things in the world.
9. In politics, Christians are liable to search for prestige instead of God. They should copy the example of Jesus who lived a quiet and simple life.
10. Christians can easily become enemies because of different political ideologies and as they fight for votes. This may pose threat to the lives of Christians.
11. It is possible that the Christians can easily be over taken by the political issues rather than the spiritual lives of the people.
12. Christians are encouraged to work for the heavenly glory instead of concentrating on the earthly pleasures.
13. Politics takes a lot of time for the earthly matters. This means that Christians may be left with little time for serving God.
14. Politics is associated with dictatorships. This sets a bad example for Christians and portrays a bad image of them.
15. In many cases politicians violate the rights and freedom of the people they serve. However, Christians are required to live for and with others peacefully.
16. Most politicians are rulers and they want to be served. However, Christians are expected to follow Jesus' example who served the people instead of being served.

HOW CHRISTIANS CAN SPREAD THE GOOD NEWS TODAY

1. Christians can spread the gospel by preaching. This can either be in the church or any other organized place or worshipping.
2. Christians can use charitable work in spreading the gospel. Through extending services to the needy, they can convey the message of love and care to the disadvantaged people.
3. The gospel is being spread through living exemplary life. This becomes important in influencing the lives of a non - believer.
4. Christian seminars or workshops can be organized with the aim of enlightening the community about their faith. This keeps the Christians firm.
5. Christians can use electronic media such as radio and television. Programmes in such media are Christian in nature including the songs and the preaching.
6. Christians can provide social services to the general public as one way of spreading the gospel. They can use this opportunity to teach the beneficiaries of the schools and hospital the gospel message.
7. Some Christians make pilgrimages in a bid to spread the gospel. Visitation to holy places such as Uganda Martyrs shrine at Namugongo, is used to remember historical events and even encourage the living with faith to behave in the same way.
8. The gospel message is being passed through composing and singing songs. Some of these songs contain biblical texts that already summarized. They are also used during praise and worship.
9. The gospel message is being passed on through drama. In the process of people being entertained, the spectators are also made aware of the gospel truth.
10. The Christians have always and can still continue to translate the scriptures into various languages in spreading the gospel. This helps the masses to read and understand the content of the scriptures.
11. Christians also contribute bibles to people such that they can have access to and read the message.
12. Some Christians go out for missionary journey in an effort to spread the gospel. They travel to distant places where they keep on conveying the gospel messages.
13. Christians can write and publish different literature as a way of spreading the good news. The gospel truth story is always conveyed in the form of stories already written down.
14. Christians can spread the good news by organizing praise and worship. In such a way, the gospel messages are passed to the people participating.
15. Some Christians may use personal testimonies to influence others. They share the Christian experiences mostly in the church.

PROBLEMS CHRISTIANS FACE IN SPREADING THE GOSPEL

1. Language barrier is almost the biggest problem in the spread of the gospel. In this, it becomes difficult for the gospel truth to be passed across to other people because of the inability to communicate.
2. Christians also face opposition from different groups of people. This may either be non-believers or believers having different doctrine.
3. Inadequate or limited funds delay the smooth spread of the gospel. This slows down activities such as missionary journey and writing Christian literature.
4. Lack of commitment on the side of believers themselves is a problem in the spread of the gospel. Such people lack seriousness and may not allow the church summons.
5. Christians are faced with the problem of competition among the different denominations. Some even preach against the others with a lot of criticism. This tends to confuse the followers who may eventually fall out.
6. Rigid and conservative cultures held by some Africans block the spread of the gospel. Such people may look at Christianity as foreign religion and are therefore, not ready to follow its teachings.
7. Political instability or insecurity has been a problem in the spread of the gospel. In such places, people cannot freely go to spread the gospel. Some are even killed in the process of moving up and down.
8. Christians face the problem of temptation in spreading the good news. They are easily taken up by the pleasures of the world at the expense of the gospel truth.
9. There is also the problem of over expectation from the general public. In such cases, the society expects the believers to be perfect in each and everything. A small mistake becomes a way of undermining such believers.
10. The spread of the gospel is also hampered by transport hazards including accidents and impenetrable roads. This tends to limit the movement of Christians.
11. Some Christians are always mocked, abused, provoked or insulted by the general public because of their faith. In some places, Christian believers are even isolated. This may prevent the spread of the gospel because of the hostile attitude of the would-be audience.
12. Some Christians are disturbed by inferiority complex or fear in the spread of the gospel. This makes them unable to carry out their duties effectively.
13. Some Christians suffer from isolation because of the faith. The strict life they live is seen as difficult to copy and at times regarded as being boring.

CHRISTIAN INVOLVEMENT IN AFRICAN TRADITIONAL SOCIETY

Christian involvement in African Traditional Society deals with the integration of African cultures into Christianity. When Christianity had just been introduced, both the Africans and the missionaries came to realise that certain customs and practices combined the two seemingly contrasting beliefs. Every effort possible was, therefore, made to get the best out of each including the following:

1. The church accepted the extended family system in traditional Africa. This was in line with the teaching of Christ where the family must be outward looking to a wider human community.
2. The traditional Africans just as the church had a common belief of God being the creator and the supreme being. This was the most important belief that brought the traditional Africans and the church as one.
3. Both the traditional Africans and the Christians believed in the existence of the evil spirits. These spirits are believed to be the obstacles to man's faith in God and are a source of instability. Above all, they all believed in the casting out of these evil spirits by performing rituals and prayers.
4. Just as the traditional Africans, the church especially, the Roman Catholic church recognized the use of intermediaries in accessing God. The Africans believed in divinities (lesser gods) to link them with the supreme God and the Catholic believes in saints.
5. The traditional Africans had always encouraged communal living to promote the spirit of togetherness. This was and is not different from the Christian idea of sharing everything in common.
6. Christianity had to recognize African names relating to the existence of God. Such names were seen to glorify God's name because of having religious meaning attached to them.
7. The church adopted the African practical way of offering sacrifices with the intention of living a holy life. They, however, had to change some of the aspect or the way it was it was being conducted like human sacrifice.
8. The church involved Africans into Christianity by translating the bible, prayer books and hymn books in the native languages. This made Christianity to penetrate deeply among the Africans.
9. The church also adopted African songs having religious meaning. They also translated their hymns into African languages so as to ease praise and worship.
10. Both the traditional Africans and the church accepted the idea of the blood bond. To the Africans, a blood relationship was not to be broken. This was the same with the Christian doctrine of Christ shading his blood to cement the relationship between man and God and man and man.
11. The church also encouraged the making of beautiful art pieces such as paintings and sculptures. Several art pieces were later used to beautify the church buildings.

12. The traditional Africans easily understood the Christian rituals and ceremonies including baptism, confirmation and others. This was not different from the African cultural practices of child naming and circumcision.

CHRISTIAN INVOLVEMENT IN CHURCH HISTORY

The Early Church

The body of the church Christ left behind got involved in a number of activities. The disciples were following the example and instruction of Christ of converting all the people into Christianity before His second coming. Their involvement in human affairs is reflected in how much they cared and loved others including the following:

1. The Christians preached the gospel. Their preaching was about the messiah (Acts 8:4-8).
2. The Christians gave testimonies as they proclaimed the message of the Lord. These testimonies helped to make the people believe more in the gospel truth (Acts 8:25).
3. The disciples converted people into believers thus the church was strengthened and it grew in number as they carried out water baptism (Acts 9:31).
4. They wrote epistles to various communities such as Corinth, Galatia and Rome. St. Paul wrote to the Corinthians on several occasions on puzzling questions including marriage and food offered to idols among others.
5. The Christians carried out charitable work. They distributed relief items and donations to the needy in the form of food (Acts 6:1-4).
6. They continued to make miracles. For example, Peter and John healed a lame man (Acts 3:1-10).
7. The Christians engaged in prayers. This became one way through, which they could communicate with God.
8. The believers shared their belongings. The rich in particular sold their property and shared the money with everyone (Acts 4:32-37).
9. They encouraged reconciliation among the believers. For example, they helped to reconcile the native Jews and the Greek speaking Jews over the disagreement concerning finances (Acts 6:1-6).
10. There was fellowship among the believers. They continued coming together and sharing the word of God (Acts 2:44-47).
11. The Christians founded churches in various communities. Saint Paul took the leading role in establishing the church in the communities he travelled like in Rome on his several visits.
12. The believers were involved in fasting as they copied the example of Jesus Christ. During such times, they dedicated themselves to the service of God (Acts 13:1-3).
13. The early Christians were occupied with laying hands on the people as Jesus had done before.
14. They also trained others to help them with the work of preaching the gospel of Jesus Christ. For example, St. Paul trained Timothy and Titus.

15. The Christians shared Holy Communion with the people. This was done in memory of the Lord's last supper and the bloodshed through crucifixion.

CHRISTIANITY IN AFRICAN CHURCH (THE MISSIONANARIES)

Consideration should be given to the following already covered under the sub-themes of work and service.

- Introduction of formal education by building schools like Mengo SS, Namilyango SS.
- Set up medical centres.
- Founded churches.
- Introduced good news of salvation.
- Trained African religious leaders including Adrian Atiman, Apollo Kivebulaya.
- Campaigned for the abolition of slave trade.
- Introduced new skills in life like carpentry.
- Carried out baptism.
- Translated the Bible into local languages.
- Helped in reconciling hostile tribes e.g. tribes Buganda and Bunyoro.
- Set up mission station such as at Bagamoyo.
- Set up catechical centres.
- Introduced legitimate trade.

CHRISTIAN INVOLVEMENT IN THE OLD TESTAMENT

1. God is acknowledged as the only creator and the Lord of everything concerned with the welfare of man (Isaiah 44:9-20).
2. God made the human beings both male and female in his own image. This opened up ways for man to respond to God in faith. (Genesis 1:27-30).
3. However, the good relationship between man and God was brought to an abrupt halt. They disobeyed the simple command God had given them and ate the forbidden fruit (Genesis 3:1ff).
4. To bring man nearer to him, God called Abraham who responded with absolute faith, obedience and trust (Genesis 12:1ff).
5. God also called Moses to fulfill his promise of setting his chosen people free from their slavery in Egypt (Exodus 3:1ff).
6. When the Israelites were finally liberated from their slavery, God expected them to respond to him with obedience (Exodus 6:1ff).
7. At the foot of Mount Sinai, God initiated a new relationship between him and his chosen people – the Israelites. He made a covenant with the Israelites and this later became the basis of their relationship (Exodus 19:1-9).
8. As part of the covenant, God gave the Ten Commandments to the Israelites. The first three laws were concerned with the vertical relation between God and the Israelites and the remaining seven dealt with the horizontal relationship among the Israelites.

9. The Israelites were urged to worship only God (monotheism) as their ancestor Abraham had started when he was called.
10. God called for love and respect among the Israelites. Being the chosen people, God expected the Israelites to show good examples to other nations. (Exodus 22:21-22).
11. However, when the Israelites turned to and worshiped other gods, they disobeyed and rebelled against their own God. But, in spite of their disobedience and rebellion, God was still willing to continue with them, but the warnings against such acts.
