Question

During an ICT seminar held at Serena Hotel, you were advised as an entrepreneur to start-up your own company and use it to utilize your skills, solve problems, and make money. You decided on an idea of an Online Fashion and Design House that sales the latest model design clothes and Art. Develop a one-page scrolling website to advertise this business idea. The website should contain sections such as Home (Index page), About, Contact, and Services section all in one webpage

1. The Home section should display trending and eye-catching stories about your company, or hot selling products, and promotions, currently offered by your company.
2. The About section should contain your professional background and necessary information about your company including your team and their professional careers and any other information you will deem necessary to appear in this section.
3. The contact section should contain your company address/location, telephone contacts, email and a contact form that contains the client's full name, a drop-down list containing the subject of the message [Inquiry, Complaint, and Appreciation], email, message, and a submit button.
4. The Services section should contain the products and services offered by your company. These should appear in rows and columns where each column shows product/service title and description. Use the provided images on the CD by UBTEB as products for the company.
5. Create a Header and include a logo for your company, website title (brand name), a tagline for your company, and the navigation menu. The menu items are Home, About, Services, and Contact. These menu items are links to sections in your webpage i.e., a click on a menu item say "About", scrolls the webpage to the About section in your webpage.
6. Create a Footer for your website that is structured into three columns. First column includes the website title and summary about your company. The second column includes the quick navigation links to Home, About, Services, and Contact sections, the third column includes your company address, telephone contacts and email. The footer should have a background colour different from the main body area.

Required

- (a) Create a layout for your website containing the header, main content, and footer sections. (06 marks)

- (b) Use the Header section above to include a logo, brand name, business tagline, and a navigation menu for your webpage. (05 marks)
- (c) Use the main-content area section created in (a) and divide it into four sections, that is, the Home, About, Services/product, and Contact sections. Link each section title to the corresponding menu item in the navigation menu to enable page scrolling feature. (04 marks)
- (d) Create content for the Home section as instructed in the scenario above. (03 marks)
- (e) Create content for the About section as instructed in the scenario above. (03 marks)
- (f) Create rows and columns and populate them with Services/products offered by your company as described in the scenario above. (04 marks)
- (g) Create a well-styled contact Form in the Contact section as described in the scenario above. (10 marks)
